

The Hidden Dynamics of Recognition

Register now for Saturday, December 10 Workshop!

Recognition is crucial to maintaining our personal motivation and the effectiveness of the organizations we work within. The hidden dynamics of recognition often limit our ability to be effective with our colleagues, clients, and the people we manage. In this workshop, you will learn more about the hidden barriers to recognition, the four common misuses of recognition that foster distrust within organizations, and key secrets to capitalizing on the benefits that recognition can bring to our performance and the effectiveness of our organizations.

This program will provide you with:

- Expanded understanding of our personal relationship to acknowledgement, praise, and recognition
- Awareness of the common misuses of praise which foster distrust in organizations
- Enhanced ability to both give and receive acknowledgement
- Tools for how to use acknowledgment, recognition, and praise to increase motivation and morale in the workplace

Trainer Profile

- American trainer, consultant, and coach with extensive training experience in Lebanon
- Results-driven trainer with significant experience in non-profit, corporate, and government sectors
- Demonstrated program development results and management skills with expertise in employee engagement, team building, mentoring and coaching
- Certified in mediation with proven expertise in conflict resolution, negotiation, cultural sensitivity, networking, and diversity training
- Dynamic trainer skilled at engaging and inspiring any audience!

Workshop Details

- Date and time: Saturday, December 10
9 am – 1 pm
- Venue: AMIDEAST Downtown Beirut
- Cost: $75
(includes training fees, materials, and coffee break)
- Payment Method: Cash, check, or wire transfer
- Registration Deadline: November 30, 2011

Testimonials from previous workshop participants

"This was honestly the best management workshop I have attended. It was very helpful as a new manager"

- Manager, Fidelity Investment, USA

"This is not the typical "lecture" much more interesting! Very informative and eye opening workshop - a great help."

- Manager, Panera Bread, USA

To register for this workshop, please complete and return the registration form.
For more information, please contact Allyson Jerab at: ajerab@amideast.org or 01-989901, ext. 234